

THE GLAIZE (DAN BEARD SHELTER)

In 1794, a single northern Ohio town, "the Glaize," was made up of hundreds of Shawnee, Miami, and Delaware Native Americans. British and French traders and artisans, along with several Nanticokes, Cherokees, and Iroquois Native Americans were represented as well. Come visit this historical Utopia, where you will have the opportunity to participate in activities like blacksmithing, tomahawk throwing, archaeological digs.
